Unique Risks in the Hospitality Sector

Your clients in the hospitality industry (hotels, motels, restaurants, bars and taverns) specialize in taking care of their guests. As a retail broker or agent, it's up to you to take care of them and ensure that they're protected from financial risk.

From liquor liability to property damage to employee theft, your clients face a unique set of exposures that come with providing services and amenities their guests demand. Speak with your clients about Hospitality insurance to help protect them from a "bottoms up" situation.
